

NEW YORK EATER

21 Outstanding Coffee Shops in New York City

Updated by Eater Staff on Feb 24, 2015, 10:18a

20 Devoción

This sprawling roastery and cafe is one of the newest additions to the Brooklyn coffee scene. It's an outpost of a coffee roaster in Bogota, Columbia, and all its raw beans arrive by FedEx straight from Columbia, just 10 days after being picked, which makes for some of the freshest coffee around. The space itself is big and open, with a plant-covered wall, a huge skylight, and plenty of seating. [Yelp]

69 Grand St
Brooklyn, NY 11249

Visit website
(718) 285-6180